SOAP DRAWING CONTEST, PRIZES AT HALLOWEEN

Adams county's youngsters, most of whom like to soap windows any way at Halloween, will be given an opportunity to exploit their skill with soap on windows creatively, Paul A. Miller, chairman of the Halloween parade committee announced today.

All youngsters in the county who can draw were urged by Chairman Miller to participate in the window soaping contest to be held immediately following the parade here October 30.

Each youth who feels he has an idea for a design to be put on a window with soap should draw out the design on a piece of paper, sign his name to the paper and send it to the Soap Drawing Chairman, Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce office, Baltimore street, Gettysburg.

To select designs and windows The drawings outlining the design must be at the Chamber office by Saturday so that judges may pick out the ten best drawings. To each of ten artists drawing the ten best designs will go a $1 prize.

Then several of the designs will be selected from among the ten. Chairman Miller said, and the children who created the designs will be notified.

On the night of October 30, right after the parade, the selected artists will draw their designs on designated store windows and the designs will be judged with prizes going to the best three window designs. Participants are to provide the soap for their drawings.

Chairman Miller also announced that a meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Legion home of members of the committee in charge which was augmented during the past several days with the addition of a number of members.

All persons in the community who feel they would like to aid the committee either as fund solicitors or in doing some of the other work that must be done in order to prepare the town for a gala celebration, the first since before the war, are also urged to attend tonight's meeting.

A number of organizations are planning to march in a body and in costume during the parade, Miller said. Word went out to the Future Farmers of America chapters today urging them to participate and Boy and Girl Scouts are planning to take part as groups in the event, he added.

Arrange Band Concert

There will be prizes to the organizations having the largest number in the line of march, the group with the most beautiful costumes, the group with the most unusual costumes, the group with the funniest costumes.

Not only will the organizations receive prizes but individuals marching with the organizations will also have an opportunity to win the individual prizes as well, Miller said.

In addition to the window soaping contest and the parade, a band concert is also scheduled for the evening and other entertainment is being secured.

"We hope," Miller said, "to give the people of Adams county a gala Halloween party that will surpass anything that has been done so far. All during the war there was no celebration of Halloween, now I feel it is time for the county people to simply let themselves go and have a glorious good time here October 30."

The Gettysburg Lions club received two new members at the weekly luncheon meeting of the service club Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the Shetter House and voted its annual contribution of $5 to the Gettysburg Civic Nursing association.

WAR FILM IS SHOWN ROTARY BY RECRUITERS

"Desert Victory" a documentary picture showing the famous 1500-mile drive of the British Eighth Army and Allied troops which in 1943 drove Rommel from North Africa, was shown Monday evening to the Rotarians at their regular meeting in the YWCA.

M. Sgt. John J. Sweeney and Sgt. Joseph Mitzler, Jr., of the York recruiting office and Sgt. Walter Stubbs of the Gettysburg recruiting office were in charge of the production.

Sergeant Sweeney, who spoke briefly before the film was shown announced that 1,020,951 volunteers are in the army now. "This marks the first time in history that more than a million men have volunteered for duty with the army," he pointed out.

While the recruiting service in less than a year has secured over one million men it must continue to bring between 35,000 and 40,000 men a month into the service in order to keep the army at the million mark, Sweeney, who has been in the army for 28 years, announced. Within the next few months 200,000 men including draftees and men whose enlistments are expiring will be leaving the army, he said.

The picture depicted the British retreat to El Alamein, 50 miles from the Nile, in the early part of 1942, showed how the Allied forces built up their strength by such devices as building a chain of airports through central Africa so that planes and equipment could be flown in and then showed the start of the battle at El Alamein, the breakthrough and the chase after Rommel through North Africa. Four British Army photographers were killed and seven wounded during the taking of the picture which showed actual battle scenes. Captured German army pictures were worked into the film to show activities among Rommel's armies during the battles.

Dr. Chester N. Gitt, president of the club, presided with 56 members and guests present. A three-man committee headed by Henry W. Garvin was selected to represent the Rotary at the formation of the Gettysburg Improvement Association. The other two members include Clyde Lenhart and Ralph Arnold.

For A Bigger And Better GETTYSBURG

What are the three most important community projects which this historic community of Gettysburg should undertake?

If you were asked that question what would you say?

Long a believer in community projects and progressive action for the future development and improvement of this community, and a staunch supporter of all worthwhile projects, The Gettysburg Times has asked ten representative citizens of Gettysburg for their suggestions. Nine responded.

Their ideas, compiled as suggestions, will be published in The Times beginning Wednesday.

The series of articles, each one representing the thoughts of one representative citizen, will be published in the order in which they were received by The Times.

The first will be by Dr. Charles H. Huber, retired member of the Gettysburg College faculty and former Headmaster of the long closed Gettysburg Academy. It will be published in tomorrow's edition of The Gettysburg Times.

IMPROVEMENT GROUP INVITES 6 ENGINEERS HERE TO STUDY ELECTRIC CO-OP.

Letters were being sent this week to 60 organizations and 50 individuals in Gettysburg urging them to help in the organization of the Gettysburg Improvement association at a meeting to be held November 7 at 8:30 o'clock in the court house.

Mrs. Wilbur L. Plank, named temporary chairman of the Improvement association at a meeting held recently in the fire engine house, said that not only was every organization being invited to join the association but that representative lodging house owners, transportation, industry and other officials were also being invited. Special invitations were going to selected individuals in each ward who will represent the non-organizational residents of their wards in the formation of the organization.

"Gettysburg Just Grew" The letter, pointing out that "Gettysburg, like Topsy, 'jest growed'," urges a concerted effort to improve the community.

"There are hundreds of things needed in the community," the letter points out. "Some may eventually be obtained, but there is no coordinated, over-all plan to determine that things are secured in proper order and as needed. We have no organization that can look at our community with a long range view and determine what we should stress and attempt to do over, let us say, the next 25 years."

Such an improvement association, in which everyone in the community will submit his ideas for community improvement and how they can be secured, can be created only through the cooperation of all organizations and individuals in the community, Mrs. Plank pointed out. "Only by obtaining the best minds from all organizations and by obtaining the wisdom and support of every organization can we achieve a body which will be capable of helping improve our community," she said.

LEGION DONATES $35 FOR PARADE ON HALLOWEEN

The Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion Monday night donated $35 toward the Halloween parade here October 30.

The donation was one of three made during the regular Legion session with the group voting to give $10 to the Civic Nursing association and a "donation" toward sponsoring of nursing service for 4,000 Adams county youngsters, now without such service, under a plan suggested by the county school board. Final decision on what the total of the donation will be will come when it is determined just how much is needed for the nursing service.

The car fund so far has reached $1,200, Lawrence Sheeds reported, with additional sums to be raised between now and November 11.

Armistice Day Plans Sheads also announced that the annual Armistice day program of the Legion will be held at the Gettysburg high school on November 8, with the name of the speaker to be announced later.

Roy A. Alexander, Adams county director of Veterans Affairs, has moved from the Legion building to the McClean building on the east side of Baltimore street until the Legion home renovations are completed, according to reports presented at the meeting.

Attorney Donald P. McPherson, has donated the use of a room, light and heat for the veterans' affairs director until his new quarters are available in the Legion home.

Discuss Court Team Legion members were urged to pay their dues for the coming year prior to November 2 in order that the Lentz post will be able to report a large membership at the roundup on that date. The two were not present two weeks ago at the installation of the other new officers.

Following the meeting two motion pictures, "Desert Victory" and a cavalry training picture, were shown by M. Sgt. John J. Sweeney, Sgt. Joseph Mitzler, Jr., and Sgt. Walter Stubbs of the U. S. Army Recruiting.

In a colorful ceremony in St. Aloysius' Catholic church Monday evening, the Rev. Rt. George L. Leech, bishop of the diocese of Harrisburg, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation on a class of 36, including 19 boys, 16 girls, and one adult. The bishop was attired in the full regalia of his sacred office. The sermon was given by the Rev. Hubert Sweeney, Passionist missionary priest from New Jersey. Bishop Leech also talked, following the conferring of the Sacrament.

James Collins sang a solo "Panis Angelicus." The children sang the benediction hymns, "O Salutaris Hostia" and "Tantum Ergo." Bishop Leech was celebrant at solemn benediction, with Rev. COURT ALLOWS MEHRING MORE TIME IN CASE

Attorneys for Stewart P. Mehring, Berwick township dog kennel operator, were given two weeks in which to present additional argument and evidence by the county court following a hearing Monday afternoon on two charges of cruelty to animals, three of harboring unlicensed dogs and a charge of operating an unlicensed kennel brought by the Commonwealth against Mehring in June.

Ray Becker, Latimore township, was released after serving three months in the county jail on a surety of the peace charge. Becker was in the county jail because he could not find anyone to go his bond of $500 to keep the peace. Attorney Daniel E. Teeter pointed out to the court. The court permitted Becker to enter into his own bond for the amount to keep the peace and gave him eight weeks in which to pay the costs.

Parole Denied

A petition of Robert D. Diehl, Hanover, that he be paroled was turned down informally by the court. Diehl, who is serving a six-to-12-month sentence on five charges of larceny and one of burglary has so far served four months of the sentence. Attorney Teeter pointed out that Diehl had made restitution and was a model prisoner. The court answered that when it passes sentence it ordinarily means that the sentence must be carried out unless something arises that was not known at the time the sentence was given. Admitted that restitution had been made and that Diehl was a model prisoner, the court said, neither of those facts showed any reason why the sentence should be reduced by paroling Diehl.

Main argument in the Mehring case revolved about what could be considered cruelty and whether a kennel license given for a kennel in Penn township, York county, could be extended to a kennel in Berwick township, Adams county.

ASSEMBLY WILL MEET WITH HOPE FOR GOOD TIMES

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The United Nations general assembly is meeting in New York Wednesday in an atmosphere of hope for better times.

We have the emphatic assurance of the assembly president, Paul Henri-Spaak of Belgium, that the conference "will be a great success—absolutely." And from V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign minister and head of the Soviet delegation, comes the statement that he is sure "important tasks now before the United Nations can be successfully solved and that any difficulties can be overcome, given good will and the real desire to achieve mutual understanding." Molotov pledged that the Russian delegation "will contribute to the work of the United Nations general assembly and the council of foreign ministers is successful and is accomplished in the interests of strengthening peace and the well-being of peoples, great and small."

The greatest success which the United Nations could achieve at this juncture would be to inspire a spirit of international cooperation and reciprocity that would help remove the grave differences existing between the Soviet bloc and the western allies. That's a subject which isn't likely to appear on the agenda, but one would expect it to be pursued diligently by delegates of some nations in private—and good luck to them!

Two Categories

The differences between the Soviet group and the other allies fall into two categories: (1) Those growing out of the realignment of zones of influence, and (2) those involved in the crusade for the spread of communism into all lands. Of these the political issue is by far the most dangerous.

By the process of give-and-take the powers might adjust an agreement over who should control a certain strategic zone. But it's a different thing when you try to deal with a global campaign to spread the Redism, for there is no way to achieve an effective compromise on that, especially since the communists hold that the western form of democracy is a threat to communism and therefore must be destroyed.

The political battle is growing hotter daily, not only in Europe and Asia but here in our own country and in the rest of the western hemisphere. America in particular is the objective of communism, because Uncle Sam is the capitalistic villain of the show.

If some wise man could figure out a way to remove the distrust between Russia and the other allies, so that communism won't think it has literally to destroy western democracy in order to safeguard itself, maybe we could have peace. But that's a tall order.

COURT ALLOWS

SPCA and Dr. George L. Hartenstein, York veterinarian told the court of their findings on visits to the Mehring establishment.

Describe Conditions

All three reported they had seen dogs in an open "rabbit hutch" where they were without shelter, that they had seen dogs in a corrugated iron kennel which two of them declared did not have any ventilation and all three reported seeing ill dogs and dogs that seemed to be unfed.

The testimony disclosed that crankcase oil was used to bathe dogs with the mange and the SPCA investigators said they did not see evidence that the dogs were properly fed and watered during their visits to the kennels.

Mehring claimed that he fed the dogs twice daily and admitted that while there were thin dogs around added that he purchased dogs for fattening to be sold to laboratories. Older dogs are at the place only four or five days, he said while dogs under six months are kept until they are the proper size for laboratory use.

Employe Testifies

Three dogs which did not have licenses were hunting dogs, he said, and added that it was his belief that the law provided for a man to have hunting dogs for trial of several days before he needs to purchase a license for them. The crankcase oil treatment, he added, had proved very effective in the treatment of the mange.

Samuel Sipling, Green Springs, an employe of Mehring, testified to watering and feeding the dogs twice daily.

Attorney Arthur Markowitz, York, who with Attorney Edward B. Bullett represented Mehring, said that from his interpretation of the law the act would apparently permit the York county license to be extended to the temporary quarters in Berwick township so long as it was still "the same establishment" as the kennel in York county for which a license had been secured.

BLAST BREAKS GAS PIPELINE

Workmen blasting stumps on the I. Z. Musselman orchard near Cashtown Monday afternoon tore a four-inch hole in a transmission gas line of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company.

The gas in the line produced a geyser of gas which, pouring out of the hole at a pressure of 230 pounds per square inch, set up a roar that could be heard for more than a mile.

Eugene Williams, manager of the Gettysburg gas corporation, which was called after the blast released the gas, said today that officials of the local company, after investigating, called representatives of the Manufacturers Light and Heat company from York, who arrived to cut off the gas and make repairs to the pipe.

The gas main was one of four running parallel across Adams county from near Mercersburg where they hook on to a main from Kentucky, New Oxford is supplied with gas from the transmission line running through the farm. However, the gas supply to New Oxford was not affected by the loss of pressure from the one main. Officials said today that even though three of the four pipes had been damaged any one could carry sufficient pressure to supply the town.

The gas escaped for more than a half-hour before the company representatives reached the nearest "gate" to cut off the flow of gas through the pipe before replacing the damaged section.

Saturday Blaze Called 'Suspicious'

Suspensions of incendiarism were being voiced in East Berlin today relative to the origin of the fire Saturday night which destroyed a barn in the borough owned by George W. Moul, but no official investigation was under way, it was said.

Interested persons quoted a fire chief who was at the scene of the fire as saying that the blaze apparently started at the top of the barn, which looked "suspicious" to him.

Meanwhile, Mr. Moul was reported to be unable to find any trace of two valuable hound puppies which he had acquired recently and was training for hunting. The two dogs were said to have been tied in the barn, and were first believed to have been destroyed. A search of the ruins has failed to disclose their bones, however, leading to the belief that they may have broken loose and escaped or were stolen.

The fire loss was only partly covered by insurance, Mr. Moul said.

County Gets Ready For Election Nov. 5

The district registers of voters have been completed with all revisions made, and are ready to go out to the districts for use election day.

With more than 18,000 Adams county residents registered, a large vote is anticipated this year. Leaders estimate that probably 13,000 of the 18,000 will go to the polls November 5.

What Is Wrong When Prayer Fails?

Thirty years ago, in Forbidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young Englishman named Edwin J. Dingle found the answer to this question. A great mystic opened his eyes. A great change came over him. He realized the strange Power that Knowledge gives.

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone. Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problems of health, death, poverty and wrong, can be solved. In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition. Thirty years ago, he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had made a human wreck of him, physically and mentally.

He was about to be sent back to England to die, when a strange message came—"They are waiting for you in Tibet." He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his twenty-one years in the Far East. He wants everyone to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him. Within ten years, he was able to retire to this country with a fortune. He had been honored by fellowships in the world's leading geographical societies, for his work as a geographer. And today, 30 years later, he is still so athletic, capable of so much work, so young in appearance, it is hard to believe he has lived so long.

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send to readers of this paper a 9,000-word treatise. He says the time has come for it to be released to the Western World, and offers to send it, free of cost or obligation, to sincere readers of this notice. For your free copy, address The Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 110-B, Los Angeles 4, California. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

Maroons Capture Third Win By Defeating Shippensburg Eleven Monday Afternoon 19-0

After being played to a standstill in the first half, the Gettysburg high Maroons pushed over a touchdown in the third period and added two more in the final quarter to defeat Shippensburg high 19-0 in a South Penn. conference football game played Monday afternoon at Shippensburg before a crowd of approximately 1,200 fans.

Joe Hess hammered his way through the line from the one-yard line midway in the third quarter while in the last period Wilmer Sharrah raced 11 yards around left end on the first play for a score and near the end of the game Guy Donaldson took a pass from Hess to gallop 35 yards for a tally.

The victory was the third of the season for the Forney-men who have also dropped as many games. By winning the Maroons moved in to a tie with Chambersburg for third place in the conference standing. The Trojans and Maroons will clash here Friday evening in the final home game of the season for the locals.

Halts Two Drives

Shippensburg held the upper hand in the first period. After Summer-ville returned Bob Hottle's kickoff to his 43, the Greyhounds pounded out a first down on the Gettysburg 44. A pass, Bolton to Summerville, put the ball on the 35 and then Bruker made a first down on the locals' 28. The Maroons tightened and took the ball on the 25. After Hess had punted to Fleagle on the Shippensburg 47 the Greyhounds gained a first down on Gettysburg's 37 on a smash by Bolton and a run by Fleagle. Again the Maroons held and took the ball on the 20 through a punt.

Coach Forney's lads then started a drive for their first threat. Hess picked up five yards on two tries and Sharrah made a first down on the 31. On the next play Sharrah went around left end and raced 32 yards before being dropped on the Greyhounds' 37 as the period ended.

Interception Hurts

Sharrah and Hess moved the ball to the 25 at the start of the second quarter but an intercepted pass by Summerville halted the drive on the 10. Several exchanges of punts followed with play for the most part being confined to Shippensburg territory.

After an exchange of punts had given the Maroons the ball on the Shippensburg 37 in the third quarter, the Forney-men staged their first touchdown drive. Hess battered his way through on two successive tries for 22 yards for a first down on the 15. Sharrah picked up two at center and then Hess smashed over left tackle for 11 more yards to reach the two. It took two plunges before the Maroon fullback crashed over. He added the extra point at left end.

In the closing minutes of the third period Ridinger returned a Greyhound punt to his own 45. Hess, whose running was a feature of the afternoon, went off right tackle and scampered 34 yards before being dropped on the Shippensburg 21. Sharrah went through left tackle for a first down on the 11 as the period ended.

Add Two More Scores

On the first play of the last period Sharrah sprinted wide around left end to score unmolested. Hess attempted to buck the ball over for the extra point but was halted.

With a goodly portion of the reserves in action, the Maroons went 65 yards for their final six-pointer. Hess romped around left end for 18 yards to put the ball on Shippensburg' 47. On the next play Jack Ridinger slipped on an end run and lofted four yards. Hess then faded back and whipped a pretty pass to Donaldson on the Gettysburg 45 and the latter raced the remaining distance for a score. Sheffer attempted a dropkick for the extra point but the boot was short.

Rodgers Recovers

Charley Rodgers, quarterback, was forced out of action in the second period when he suffered a slight brain concussion. He had fully recovered following the game but will be given a rest from practice today and will undoubtedly start against Chambersburg here Friday evening.

The Maroons played fine ball during the second half. The line was

52 Court Teams Form Association

Chicago, Oct. 22 (AP)—Fifty-two professional basketball teams from coast to coast, agreeing to work in unison, have become members of a national association in the first move towards a gigantic farm system for the game's "major" leagues. The formation of "the National Association of Professional Basketball Leagues" was completed yesterday. Conspicuous by its absence in the new organization was the powerful new basketball association of America, sponsored by the arena managers' association, with members in New York, Boston, Providence, Philadelphia, Indianapolis, Washington, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cleveland, Detroit, Toronto and Chicago.

The formation of the 52-team association, consummated by an executive board of six members from the National and American basketball leagues and affiliated loops was considered the first big step in establishing pro basketball on a big business basis rivaling pro football.

Injuries To Bench 2 Villanova Players

Villanova, Pa., Oct. 22 (AP)—Villanova football coach Jordan Olivar said today tackle John Sandusky and possibly quarterback Bill Doherty, a reserve, will be on the sidelines at Friday's game at Boston college as a result of injuries suffered in the Georgetown game Sunday.

Sandusky suffered a possible broken rib on the kickoff and Doherty twisted his ankle as he was being tackled.

Bob Montgomery Plans To Get Rest

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Lightweight champion Bob Montgomery (Pa.-N.Y. version) says he'll probably rest up at home here until early November before resuming training for his November 26 15-round title bout here with challenger Wesley Mouzon, another Philadelphia.

The bout, originally scheduled for October 23 at Convention hall, was postponed yesterday by promoter Herman Taylor after Montgomery suffered a gashed lip during a sparring session Sunday at his Pleasantville, N. J., camp.

Philadelphia Chosen For Bicycle Races

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—The board of the Amateur bicycle league of America announced last night that Philadelphia has been selected as the site of the 27th annual National Bike racing championships. Olympic cycling team will be chosen from the contestants in the 1947 championship events.

Says Navy Stronger Than Record Shows

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Scout Paul Riblett cautioned Penn today against over-confidence in Saturday's game here with Navy. Riblett said three bad breaks cost the Middles the North Carolina game last Saturday, but added Navy is stronger than their won-loss record indicates. The Penn scout who said the Navy line is big and strong, was high in his praise of Navy ends and said he regarded Leon Bramlett as one of the best in the east.

Rockets Bolstered By Two Additions

Hershey, Pa., Oct. 22 (AP)—The Philadelphia Rockets will meet the Hershey Bears tomorrow night in an American Hockey league game, confident that the addition of two newly acquired players will brighten their prospects of breaking their string of four straight defeats.

The Rockets, who flew in yesterday from Indianapolis, said they expect to use Nick Demore, veteran goalie whom they picked up here, and Fred Ferens, the standout defenseman the Rockets acquired from the Buffalo Bisons over the week-end. Manager Pete Tyrrell said he expected to add another defenseman by game time.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Off yesterday's meeting, the New York Football Writers' Association should change its name to the Glenn Davis Admiralty society. . . Lou Little, Columbia coach, touched off the discussion when he said: "Davis is the best running halfback I ever have seen in football. Steve Owen says there's one thing that will stop Davis—graduation. And I hope that happens soon." . . The writers who saw Army whip Columbia Saturday (including this one) agreed with Lou. . . Against wartime opposition, all Davis had to do was run faster than the tacklers. Now he has to exercise his superb sidestepping skill. He passes expertly (and don't forget that Doc Blanchard is a great pass receiver), does the kicking while Blanchard's injured knee still is uncertain and the guy apparently doesn't know when he's stopped.

ARMY PICKS UP POINTS IN AP FOOTBALL POLL

By SID FEDER

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Boosted back to first place among the nation's football teams a week ago by the country's sports writers, Army zipped farther out in front in the Associated Press weekly poll today.

Notre Dame boosted its second place margin over Texas, and Tennessee, Northwestern, Georgia and North Carolina came skipping up the trail off their successes of last Saturday.

All together, 156 sports writers from every section of the country balloted in this third week of the Associated Press' poll for the 1946 gridiron season. Texas drew 25 less votes for first place than it did a week ago, in spite of its 20-0 win over Arkansas last Saturday, and Notre thoroughbred Record, voice of the horse-raising industry, headlines: "Now is the time for racing to get tough with undesirables." What has it been waiting for? . . . A Texan who would like to match Texas U. and Army in the Cotton Bowl game, sends word he has $5,000 to bet on the Longhorns to win by two touchdowns. This Dept. would be satisfied to cover the game. . . John Jacobs, Oklahoma U. track coach, was perturbed when Bill Weaver, a drama student and high jumper, beat all his best two-milers in practice. Jacobs always thought a jumper never broke out of a walk except in the last four steps approaching the cross bar.

Snow Hill, Md., Oct. 22 (AP)—Trial was scheduled to open in Somerset county court today for Mrs. Iva P. Krumholz, 43, thrice-married Princess Anne tavern keeper, charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of Rollin Roscoe Riley, Vineland, N. J., poultry buyer.

Mrs. Krumholz was arrested by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in Cincinnati, O., 18 days after Riley was found shot to death.

U.C.L.A. to fifth with 800 and left Penn, 40-0 winner over Virginia, sixth with 699½. Georgia, 33-13 victor over Oklahoma A. and M., moved up to seventh, with 548.

Michigan and Northwestern each collected 418 points to wind up in an exact tie, which is exactly how they wound up in their collision last Saturday—at 14-all. Rounding out the select set, North Carolina collected 110 points for tenth place after the surprise party the Tarheels threw for Navy Saturday.

Today's Talk
FEELING

I know the moment I read a book, or look upon an inspired work of art, or listen to the talk of a person, whether or not feeling has been put into each. Feeling does something to you at once. It is the child of genuineness.

Robert Burns, the Scottish poet, was first of all a farmer. He loved his acres and loved the very dirt that he turned up—but he couldn't help being a poet, for he was a man of feeling. He put this feeling into everything that he wrote, and he was in spite of all his faults—one of the most beloved human beings of his time. People knew that he felt what he wrote.

No one is ever effective without this feeling. You sense it in the speaker, the writer, the artist; in fact, you sense it in any worker, or creator. It is the honesty of a person expressing itself. When Patrick Henry cried out, "Give me Liberty, or give me death," he meant it. Liberty was that dear to him.

There is a painted oil portrait of a peasant woman, hanging in my office, that daily inspires me. It is by that master, Alphonse Legros.
There is feeling in it. I see not only the story of that woman's life depicted, but also the life of the artist as well. He was a teacher of art, and he imbued every student with that sincerity of feeling that was,
of him, his whole asset. That is why his art will live, as all art with feeling lives.

There was feeling in that brief address of Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg. There was feeling in that famous editorial that appeared in the New York Sun, about half a century ago, to "Virginia," telling her that there was, and always would be, a Santa Claus. And there was feeling in George Washington's Farewell
Address. Such things live forever!

When Emerson made that statement, "What you are speaks so loudly that I cannot hear what you say," he meant that the feeling of character stood out far and above all words. The immortal sayings and deeds are always backed up with feeling that inspired them. Put feeling into what you say, write, or do, and you do not have to worry about its resulting good, or its influence.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Lamp of Experience"

Just Folks
BUMP ON THE BROW

I stooped for a comb on the bathroom floor
And bumped my head on a cupboard door.
The stars and the sun and the moon came in,
And my ears were filled with a ringing din.

'Twas a minute or so ere my brain
had cleared.
With a scarlet stream was my forehead smeared.
Now, I've learned from many a stranger's wink
The evil thoughts which people think.

The nicest of ladies stared and said:
"Whose fist did that to your foolish head?"
Men asked if I couldn't have ducked
that swing,
And fancied the fellow had worn a ring.

When told I had bumped 'gainst an open door,
I was answered: "We've heard that one before."
And I've learned from that scar
on my brow—still pink,
How eager are folks the worst to think.

GIANT QUEEN
ELIZABETH IS IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 22 (AP)—Britain's Queen Elizabeth, her ugly duckling days behind her, rode to a queenly welcome in New York's great harbor Monday as she completed her maiden peacetime voyage to open a new era of trans-Atlantic luxury travel.

Resplendent in her new dress of black, red and white, and her rails lined with happy, waving passengers, the 83,673-ton liner shone in the morning haze as she steamed to her North river berth.

While a noisy little army helicopter hovered near the liner and airplanes flew over her, two fire department boats escorted her to Pier 90 where she docked at 7:34 a. m.
(EST). She carried 2,314 passengers, many of them delegates to the United Nations General Assembly.

Royal Welcome
The landing was in sharp contrast to unheralded visits the Queen paid to the New York port in wartime, when the gray-painted giant, whose luxury liner career was forestalled by the war, brought home-coming veterans into the port.

She came here first in March, 1940,
as a drab-colored fugitive from German bombs and submarines in a daring secret crossing.

She returned this time with the banners and manners of her real rank. Refurbished at a cost of $5-000,000, she steamed to her pennantdecked berth after a leisurely journey that symbolized the changeover from the hazards of ocean warfare to the pleasures of peace time travel.

City officials, headed by Manhattan Borough President Hugo Rogers, greeted her.

Except for the fairyland of food and drink she provided for Britons, who have known seven lean years of scarcity, the Queen Elizabeth's initial trip in her new role was commonplace and placid. She made no attempt to break the speed record held by her sister ship, the Queen Mary, and she had only one morning of rough weather in a five-day passage.

Seek Dollar Credits
The first concern of many passengers was how to arrange for dollar credits to pay for taxicab and hotel bills. They were allowed only to take a token number of pounds from England and the two banks aboard weren't exchanging dollars for pounds.

One peer, name not disclosed, lost his entire bankroll betting in the auction pool on the ship's daily mileage and had to borrow money to come ashore.

The Elizabeth passengers included

Orders Protest Of Church Persecution

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 (AP)—Pastors in all Catholic churches in the Philadelphia archdiocese, acting on directions from Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, have instructed their congregations to protest against the persecution of the Catholic church in Yugoslavia.

Pastors read at all masses Sunday a letter from the cardinal expressing regret over the "shameless injustice of the Zagreb trial" where Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac was sentenced to imprisonment.

Prayers were said for the prelates and priests who have suffered "unjust punishment" at the hands of Marshal Tito. Cablegrams will be sent from each of the 386 parishes to Pope Pius XII expressing sympathy for fellow Catholics in Yugoslavia.

municants.

YANK EXPECTS MORE BLASTS
IN STUTTGART

Stuttgart, Germany, Oct. 22 (AP)—
A ranking American army official said today he expected more bombings like the week-end blasts in the Stuttgart area, as "protests against the denazification program."

"The American military government expects a widespread outbreak against the denazification program," the official, who may not be named, said in Berlin.

U. S. military and German criminal police worked with counter intelligence agents in efforts to crack the bombing of two denazification board headquarters and a U. S. military jail, which some investigators thought to be connected to the approaching German trial of Hjalmar Schacht, truculent old banker who was acquitted at Nuernberg. No one was hurt.

Schacht, under arrest in a German prison some distance from the one which was bombed, shouted to a reporter from his cell that the bombings were "obviously a democratic protest against the Hitlerite measures of the Germans who want to try me again."

The city of Stuttgart offered a $2,500 reward for information.
American authorities disclosed that an American motor pool was destroyed in an explosion in the Mannheim area early this month and that a week before the Stuttgart bombings, an American army officer's car was demolished south of here by an infernal machine. The investigators thought both incidents "possibly may have some connection."

Schacht, who was Hitler's finance minister and Reichsbank president early in the Nazi regime, said he learned of the bombing early today.
"It could not be a plot to kill me —who would want to kill me?" the tall, heavy jawed German said fiercely.

Mine Work Class

Princeton, Pa., Oct. 22 (AP)—Training for work in coal mines will be offered in a vocational shop for high school students to be opened in this Westmoreland county community tonight by the Rostraver township school district.

Considerable machinery, obtained from government war surplus stocks, has been installed in the shop, which is located in a large brick building formerly used by the Pittsburgh Coal company as a power house at its Somers mine.

Instructors will be Gilbert W. Dolan, who has 25 years' experience in mining and supervising, Michael Sapko, 20-year-old veteran of the industry and until a year ago master mechanic for the Pittsburgh Coal company's Ocean mine.

The 30 boys, 15 or older, who have enrolled for the course will have an opportunity to win two scholarships in mining engineering at Pennsylvania State college. These will be offered yearly by the Pittsburgh Coal company.

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE—It appears that the livestock trade is rapidly taking a turn toward a normal operating basis. As the new week opened with all controls removed producers responded with a liberal influx of cattle at the Baltimore yards. The early estimate was placed at 3,000 cattle. The early trucks arrived freely throughout the forenoon trade moderately active but confined at 11:30 a.m. It appeared that the estimate would be considerably overrun and that receipts will be the largest since 1942. A late check showed fully 90 per cent or more steers and feeders. Slaughter supplies comprised mainly medium and good steers and common and medium cows. Forenoon trade moderately active but confined mostly to slaughter cattle and at prices 1-4 below late last week, though not many of the sales reflected more than a $2 loss. A few early sales of replacement cattle showed only minor downturns. In the early afternoon trade settled under way at prices steady to 5c below the close of last week.

The bulk of the medium and good steers, 12-22, with a few heads of good $25. Not many common and medium moved on slaughter account, but a few to 15. Heifers present in rather small volume, a few medium and good lots, $18-23. Several lots and a few loads of good cows, $17.50-18, and one outstanding load, $19, at market's opening. Common and medium, $12-16, with some early sales to $17. Early trade on canner and cutter, $9-11.50, with a few individuals to $8, and prices showing up a little more frequently after midnoon. Good bulls, $17.50-18, with an occasional good steer weighing below 900 lbs., $15-15.50, with a few good $19.

CALVES—Moderately active trade prevailed on the supply of good and choice vealers, some tendency toward downwardness on other grades as well as on weighty calves. Prices mostly steady. Good and choice vealers in mixed lots and weighing 120-220 lbs., $22-25. Common and medium vealers and slaughter calves, $16.50-21.50. Culls, around $14.50, with an occasional very lightweight individual as low as $6.

HOES—A broad demand developed for the moderate supply of hogs, and prices advanced mostly $1.50 a head. The bulk of the supply comprised 150-220 lb. butchers and these weights along with a scattering of others selling up to $50 lbs., top price $25. Old head of weights ranging 500-600 lbs., $25, while good scores, $22. Pigs in extremely light supply.

SHEEP—Trade on slaughter lambs and ewes continued along at steady prices. Good and choice wooled lambs weighing 30-110 lbs., $23.50-24. Medium and good, $20-23 and common grades, around $13, with some culls to $12. Good and choice slaughter ewes with normal seasonal wool growth, $11-12, while common and medium, $7.50-11.

UNITED NATIONS
MEETING NOT TO BE SENSATIONAL

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—The general assembly of the United Nations opens its first meeting in this country Wednesday in New York. Nothing sensational is expected.

The meeting—to be held on the World's Fair grounds in New York city—will last about six weeks. This is the assembly's second meeting. The first was last January and February in London.

That London meeting was more or less a routine affair. Most of its time went into setting up the various agencies or committees which will do the work of U.N.

At the New York meeting the assembly will hear the reports—and maybe take action on the reports—of some of those agencies or committees created last winter in London. From now on the general assembly meetings—like those of U.N.'s security council—will be held in this country. That's because U. N. has chosen the United States as headquarters.

One of the main jobs of the assembly at this first American meeting will be to try to decide where in the United States it wants permanent headquarters.

The general assembly is not like the security council. Although there are 51 nations in U. N., only 11 are on the security council. Those 11 include the Big Five: United States, Britain, Russia, France, China.

No Veto In Assembly

If anyone of the Big Five wants to block important action by the other 10 members of the council, it can do so with a veto, a "no" vote.

It's different in the general assembly. There all 51 members nations have one vote. And no veto in the assembly.

So far in the history of U.N. the security council has held most attention. That's because the work it does is so dramatic. When one nation starts pushing another around, the council has to try to stop it to prevent war.

The security council does other work, too, but its big job is to save the sore spots—the dangerous ones—which spring up.

But the assembly has the vast job of dealing in human welfare and other international problems of a less explosive nature. Directly under the assembly is a key organization called the economic and social council.

Sidney, Mont. (AP)—The fashion in Indian war bonnets isn't running to traditional eagle feathers this season, at least not here.

Eugene Little Coyote of Lame Deer, Mont., scouted the fashion whoop for magpie feathers. He wrote officials here that he would like to buy 100 of them at "whatever price you ask."

GOVERNMENT IS NEW TARGET OF JOHN L. LEWIS

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Oct. 22 (AP)—John L. Lewis—with his big hat and his ten-gallon words—is back in the ring, punching again.
Lewis has spent years slugging away at heavyweights like the coal mine owners. It seems now they were just preliminary boys. But he was just warming up.
This time he takes on the champ, the U. S. government itself.
Last spring Lewis hit the mine owners with a bucketful of demands which he deliberately made vague. When he got the owners into a room he bounced big words and booming phrases off them.
The words and the phrases were a combination of Bible, Shakespeare and minced ham. But they got Lewis the publicity he wanted for his miners.
The owners wouldn't give him what he wanted entirely. His miners struck. Pretty soon the country's factories were gasping for coal.
It was a tough, tight squeeze for the whole country. Reconversion was groggy from the beating.
Then the government stepped in, took over the mines, and talked turkey with Lewis.
Government-Operated
The government signed a contract with him, giving him most of what he wanted. His miners went back to work. That was last May. They've been working since.
But the government isn't in the coal business. It was supposed to continue running the mines—on Lewis' terms—only until he and the mine owners could reach some agreement.
Lewis and the owners have not yet reached an agreement. The government still runs the mines. And now Lewis is mad at the government. He says the government has violated its contract with him.
Secretary of the Interior Krug is the government representative who made the contract with Lewis last spring. Last Saturday Lewis, in a head-to-head talk with Krug, told the secretary:
"The government wasn't living up to its contract and was doing things Lewis thought violated the contract. Krug apparently didn't yield to the man in the big black hat, so yesterday Lewis wrote Krug a typical Lewis letter which began:
"On Saturday, Oct. 19, 1946 you in conference with me again refused to correct the unilateral misinterpretation you have heretofore issued of the Krug-Lewis agreement of May 29, 1946."
New Strike Looms
By "unilateral misinterpretation" Lewis seems to mean "by your one-sided misinterpretation," since unilateral means one-sided although diplomats, who use "unilateral" all the time, never use "one-sided" if they can help.
So Lewis, under the terms of the contract with Krug, wants a conference with him November 1 to iron out the dispute. Krug, who denies any contract violation, is cool to the conference idea. He says he's

Cut 13-Foot Fir Tree: 586 Years Old

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 22 (AP)—Nearly 13 feet in diameter at the base, the largest Douglas fir tree known (in forest service records) to have been felled, has been cut in the Packwood forest, southwest of Mount Rainier.
A short section from the North-west Door company plant, where it will be kept in a concrete saddle for display purposes.
The tremendous fir was long overdue for cutting because rot had begun to eat at the base of the trunk and much of the upper part was decayed. It is not known how tall the tree was at its prime as lightning or high wind years ago shattered it 198 feet from its base.
The remaining section however, contains an estimated 11,076 cubic feet of wood or enough, theoretically, to produce 349,464 square feet of plywood, sufficient to build 58 five-room houses, or 132,012 board feet of lumber. The extent of the rot in the upper section is not known.
Three men with a power saw worked a day and a half to fell the giant stick.

Hunterstown

Hunterstown — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hanum and Mr. and Mrs. George Kayler, Hanover, recently visited the Misses Nina and Margaret Wolford of Hunterstown.
Mr. and Mrs. Criswell made a trip to Aberdeen, Md., recently.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Harman, and family recently visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mart Harman.
Raymond and Annie Edwards, who are heard daily over the radio, will be at the Methodist church of Hunterstown next Sunday evening. Mrs. Edwards was here before but her husband was overseas at the time.
afraid it would simply delay the time when the government can get out of the coal business.
If Krug and Lewis don't reach some agreement, the miners may walk out again November 20.
Another coal strike—a long one—would really put the country in a box. It's just getting over the no-meat blues and never has run smoothly on the reconversion trolley since reconversion started after Japan's surrender.

WATER TOO HOT?
TOO COLD?
SCALDING?
TEPID?
NEVER JUST RIGHT?
BLAME THE FURNACE COIL
Furnace coil hot water is a poor substitute for an efficient hot water system. In winter, when the furnace is roaring, the hot water approaches live steam. When the fires burn low the hot water supply is reduced to a tepid trickle. In summer, when the furnace is out, you must resort to an antiquated, inefficient substitute—the "bucket-a-day" coal pot stove.
Your furnace was primarily intended to heat the house—not hot water. A furnace coil reduces the efficiency of your furnace, absorbs as much as 20% of the heat, burns more coal, and often leads to costly furnace repairs and replacements.
